HAMLIN, JONES COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, MARCH 6, 1936.

NUMBER 19.

G. E. JOHNSON FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE

TO THE VOTERS OF JONES AND SHACKELFORD COUNTIES:

I take this method of announcing for State Representative and for the benefit of those who are not conversant with my past life, I will say I came to Jones County in 1924 and worked as an abstractor, built an abstract plant and sold it, was appointed deputy county clerk by Mr. Walter F. Wright and served in that capacity until he retired from that office, later I ran a grocery store in Anson and changed back to the law business. I was a candidate for State Treasury from Jones County in 1926. Was reared on a farm in Coryell County, taught school, served as County Attorney and County Judge of Coryell County and District Attorney of Coryell, Hamilton, and Comanche Counties. I believe my experience as a farmer, teacher, abstractor, groceryman and official qualifies me for the position I seek. I am in favor of a unicameral or one house Legislature, also in favor of passing the necessary laws to pay the old folks their pensions. I am against the increase of taxes on real estate in any manner, whatsoever, and am opposed to creating any more new departments, boards or commissions and believe some of those now in existence should be abolished. I am in favor of cutting the running expenses of the state government in a great many different places.

I respectfully solicit your vote and influence and will appreciate any good words, you may speak in my behalf,

Sincerely yours,
G. E. JOHNSON.

WHAT THE HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT IS DOING

The men teachers and the club boys will play basket ball on Thursday, Mar. 5, at noon. Five cents is the admission. The money will go toward sending delegates to the State Rally.

The first year Home Economic girls are learning how to prepare breakfast. They are planning on serving breakfast to about four students next week.

COUNTY FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS PLAN SAN JACINTO DAY CELEBRATION

Far reaching plans made by the Federation of Woman's clubs at its meeting in Anson, Feb. 29. One of the plans, already afoot, is the San Jacinto Day Festival to be staged on the Cowboy Reunion grounds in Stamford on April 21. This is to be a huge affair, depicting events from March 2 to April 21, 1836, by means of a pagent. Sham battles, still life pictures, etc. and engaged in by every community in the county that will be "co-operate." This festival is to be free, in order that young and old may be helped to a greater appreciation of our frontier fore-fathers, during this our Centennial year and thereby stirred to greater patriotism.

Of course, some money will be required to stage this pagent, but contributions are expected, as no gate fee will be charged and the whole-hearted co-operation of each town and community is expected.

THESE ACTIVE SOPHOMORES

During the past few weeks, the Sophomores have been staunch believers of the old adage "Business before Pleasure," and we have obtained satisfactory results. Now, we believe it is time to lay aside our duties as students, forget our books and enjoy the picnic, Friday night. In other words, we are going to saddle our blues to a wild mustang and gallop our troubles away. At least that will be the state of affairs until Monday morning.

At the conclusion of a recent class meeting the decision of the class members was unanimously in favor of a picnic. Those who attend will be asked to bring ten cents to help cover the food costs and other expenses. The cars will leave the school house, which is the meeting place of the students at six thirty o'clock and then proceed immediately to the appointed picnic grounds. Leading the spacious parade will be our Sophomore comic, Thomas Williams and his new automobile, which is apparently Henry Ford's first model. Mr. Cox and other chaperons will follow immediately with the remainder of the class.

In order to make this picnic a success, Mr. Cox and the class officers urge every one to attend and co-operate with them in any way they can. So now it is, "on with the picnic."

METHODIST CHURCH MRS. SAM C. VAUGHAN

Several of our people have been wondering about the supposed Methodist Preacher who lectured in Hamlin some days ago on Russia. The following letter might be of interest to those members who disagree with the lecturer.

Methodist Episcopal Church, South
Oklahoma City District
1108 N W 19th Street
Oklahoma City, Okla.
Feb. 27, 1936.

Rev. H. A. Longino,

Hamlin, Texas.

My Dear Brother:

Fred W. Ingvolstad who was recently in your city is not a minister in the Methodist Church having withdrawn from that church under complaint. This excerpt from the Conference Minutes, 1935 Session:

"Fred W. Ingvolstad was allowed to withdraw from the ministry and membership of the church under complaint."

He was never a member of the Rotary Club of this city.

Trusting this information may be of service to you; I am,

Fraternally yours,

JOHN R. ABERNATHY.

Last Sunday evening Brother Butterfield's presentation of the American Indian costumes, religion, etc., was very interesting and the artistic beadwork that he had on exhibit was the most beautiful that could be found anywhere. Those attending were certainly favored with a very helpful and interesting program.

We are looking forward to a good day Sunday and invite you to attend all services. Since the cold weather has ceased the attendance is gradually increasing. Invite a friend to accompany you to services.

"The consciousness of work well done, is labor's richest reward."

WINS HONOR STANDING AT AT COLLEGE FOR WOMEN

SPECIAL TO HAMLIN HERALD:

Denton, Mar. 3.—On the basis of outstanding work in scholarship, Miss Doris Pope, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bowen Pope of Hamlin, has been awarded honors for the first semester at Texas State College for Women (C. I. A.) by Dean E. V. White.

Each year honor recognition is accorded those students who have made a high B average the fall semester, and they participate in a special Honors Day Program which is held in the spring. Miss Pope is a senior majoring in English and education.—T. S. C. W. News Bureau.

FOR RENT

Have two nice front bed rooms, all modern conveniences. Each room has a private entrance.

MRS. C. P. CHASTAIN,
Phone 182.

Mrs. Sam C. Vaughan, one of Hamlin's first citizens died at her home in this city Thursday afternoon, February 27, at 2:00 o'clock, after a lingering illness of several weeks. She had been an invalid for nearly twenty-five years, and while she was deprived of an active life she maintained an alert interest in the affairs of her country, community and church, and always met her friends with a pleasant, cheerful greeting.

Dorcas Crossland was born Feb. 21, 1870 at Dresden, Navarro County, Texas and spent the early years of her life there. On April 14, 1895 she was married to Rev. Sam C. Vaughan, a minister of the Methodist Church, and for many years she not only carried the responsibilities of home maker and mother, but was a true helper to her husband in his ministerial work, cheerfully assuming all the duties and burdens of the pioneer minister's wife. When she married Rev. Vaughan, she not only assumed these duties, but the responsibility of mother to his three small children, and how well she carried this responsibility is shown in the love and respect these children, now grown men and women have always accorded her.

In 1904 when she came with her husband and family to make her home in this community, she entered into the spirit of the new town and was one of the enthusiastic organizers and workers of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church of this city and continued an active worker in her church until she was prevented by ill health.

Mrs. Vaughan was converted and became a member of the Methodist Church when a young girl, giving a long life of consecrated Christian service.

She is survived by six children, her husband having preceded her in death on June 30, 1928. The children are S. M. Vaughan, Midland, Mrs. C. D. Payne, Terrell, Mrs. J. V. Harwood, Mexia, Miss Lulan Vaughan, John Vaughan and Tom C. Vaughan all of Hamlin. She is also survived by seven grandchildren and three brothers; W. J. Crossland, Corsicana, H. E. Crossland, Houston and H. S. Crossland of Tacoma, Washington.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock at the Methodist church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Hugh A. Longino, assisted by Rev. J. Henry Littleton, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Burial in East Cemetery was under the direction of Barrow Undertaking Company.

MRS. W. W. SMITH AND BABY DIED

Death has saddened the home of W. W. Smith, who lives between Sylvester and McCauley.

On Saturday, Feb. 22, a baby girl came and lived only a few hours. It was buried on Sunday, Feb. 25.

Mrs. Smith took pneumonia following the birth, and lived till 10:00 P. M. Monday, March 2. At the time of her death, she was 30 years, 6 months and 24 days of age. She leaves a husband and two children, sons, ages 6 and 10 years. She is also mourned by two sisters, Mrs. Annie Scifres, of Chillicothe, and Mrs. Ernest Bessire, of Hamlin.

Mrs. Smith's maiden name was Bertie Ragland, and she was married to W. W. Smith, April 12, 1924. She was a member of the Sylvester Methodist Church, at which place the funeral was held on Tuesday at 2:00 P. M. The body was in charge of the Barrow Company and interment was in East Cemetery, Hamlin.

McCAULEY 4-H CLUB NEWS

The McCauley 4-H Club girls met Monday, Feb. 24.

The house was called to order by the president. The meeting was opened by the singing of some peppy songs. Our sponsor, Miss Milsap urged all the girls to make a bed comfort. She also showed us what kind of material to use. Our president gave us some recipe books and other useful literature.

Our reporter was holding two offices, so we elected a new reporter.

Miss Jennings will meet with us next Wednesday. We welcome visitors at any time.

MRS. W. W. SHIELDS

Funeral services were held for Mrs. W. W. Shields, Thursday afternoon, Feb. 27, at three o'clock in the First Baptist Church in McCauley, conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. P. Hardesty, assisted by the pastor of the Methodist Church, Rev. J. R. Bateman.

Mrs. Shields died at her farm home near Midland, at two thirty o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 26, after a brief illness of only about two hours.

For a number of years, Mr. and Mrs. Shields had made their home in Jones County, and it was only last October, they moved to their farm near Midland, where they had planned to make a permanent home. For many years they had been busy making improvements and modernizing their house, and the job was completed only a few days before Mrs. Shields' death.

The deceased was born April 8, 1882 in Grant County, Ark. She came to Texas in 1892 with her widowed mother and settled in Hunt County. It was in this county in the little town of Jardin she was united in marriage to W. W. Shields on Sept. 3 1899. To this union two children were born, one died in infancy and the other died at the age of eight.

In 1903 Mrs. Shields moved with her husband to Jones Co. and for seventeen years she and Mr. Shields taught in the schools of this county.

At an early age Mrs. Shields was converted and united with the Baptist Church, and at the time of her death, her membership was in the First Baptist Church of Midland.

Following the funeral service the body was interred in the McCauley Cemetery.

G. C. RUSSELL FOR CO. TREASURER

G. C. Russell of Anson has authorized this paper to announce his candidacy for the office of County Treasurer subject to the action of the Democratic primaries. In the beginning he wishes to express his sincere thanks to the good people of Jones County for the splendid vote he received six years ago, when he was a candidate for County Treasurer.

He was elected Public Weigher of Anson in 1924 and served for several years, since which time he has worked continuously at the Farmer's Co-operative Gin at Anson, until a year ago he opened up a cafe which he has continued to operate.

Mr. Russell is a native of Hopkins County coming from Sulphur Springs fifteen years ago and has made Jones County his home since that time.

He has had experience in office work and is in every way equipped to hold the office satisfactorily. His integrity as a man of reliability has been established and is the type of man who has always worked for what he has and treated his fellow man right while doing it.

He promises to render his best service and talents to the performance of the duties encumbered upon the office if he is honored with the election. He will deeply appreciate your consideration and support.

In the coming months Mr. Russell will meet you, greet you with a smile and give you a card which will solicit your vote and influence.

EXPRESSION RECITAL

Next Thursday evening at the High School Auditorium, at 8:00 o'clock, Mrs. E. O. Larkin will present her expression class in a recital. The recital will consist of readings, dialogues, plays and songs.

There will be thirty pupils presented between the ages of 2 years and 15 years old. This is the first expression recital this year and Mrs. Larkin is extending an invitation to the public to be present.

Mrs. John Griffin was called Sunday to go to Sylvester to nurse Mrs. Bill Smith, who was very ill with pneumonia. Mrs. Smith died Monday night and was buried Tuesday afternoon in the East Cemetery at Hamlin.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Patterson, of El Paso, are spending the week here with Mrs. Patterson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Beavers, and her sister, Mrs. Jessie Waggoner.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Martin Decker of the McCauley community a fine son, last week. The little fellow is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. George.

A New Farm Bill

The New Deal is not to be discouraged by the Supreme Court "knock-out" of the A. A. A. A new bill has been passed to take the place of the old—it should be an improvement.

For lack of time and direct information, the Herald can not comment on the New Farm Bill now, but we will pass on and emphasize the comment of The Dallas Morning News. Its Editorial says:

"PROSPEROUS FARMING CLASS"
"Parity of farm income, not of farm prices, is the goal of the substitute law for the defunct AAA signed by President Roosevelt. It will operate without contracts between farmers and the Federal Government, but it will require proof of compliance with such soil improvement crops and in stipulated proportion of land in crops as will be specified by Secretary Wallace. The new measure is a great step forward as to its ultimate aims—the safeguarding of the Nation's soil and protecting of the farmers' purchasing power and standard of living. How well it will control acreage remains to be seen.

"Nations rise and fall as their soil is productive or depleted. Poor land and poor farmers go together. The Federal Government's program of soil conservation is entitled to the fullest co-operation of landowners, tenants, bankers, merchants and the man in the street. Without a prosperous farming class there can be no permanent prosperity in towns and cities.

"Retirement of about 30,000,000 acres from production of such surplus crops as cotton, corn, tobacco, wheat, rice and others is to be brought about by rewarding farmers who will plant these acres in permanent pasture, forest or soil improvement crops. Such a policy should have been adopted from the first instead of the strong-arm methods under the Bankhead law. The latter efforts, coupled with pegged prices of American cotton above world prices, cost Texas farmers heavily in loss of foreign markets. These markets again are open to the world and it is up to Texas farmers to recapture them by producing the highest quality cotton and export products they are capable of growing. It is not too late in spite of the formidable competition of Brazil, Russia, India, Egypt, Argentina and many minor nations.

"Southern farmers will be told what they are to do at the Memphis meeting March 5, 6, 7, at which the old AAA forces will assemble to get their marching orders. After that meeting everything should move along promptly and smoothly."

—Dallas News.

ONE PLACE TO START
CITY BEAUTIFICATIONFrom an editorial in the Rotarian Magazine

A prominent architect remarked recently, and rather vehemently: "The thing which amazes me is the manner in which otherwise civic-minded individuals can entirely ignore that particular section of their community which has really some of the most practical reasons to be kept beautiful. I refer to that section through which the trains pass."

It is true that to a community the disadvantages of an "other side of the tracks" are great. A visitor receives probably his most lasting impression from the first views he gets—the railroad scenes.

Those who are in a position to press for clearance of such districts, will be rendering a triple service in doing so. To themselves comes the satisfaction of having contributed toward beautification of their city. To the future visitor is assured a pleasant first impression of the community. To those individuals who, through exigency, are forced to live in squalid surroundings, is given a chance for more wholesome living. This is most important to all.

MISS DELLA BRYSON TAKES PROMINENT PART IN PLAY

March 1. — Mary Hardin Baylor observed National Drama Week recently with a series of one act plays, and concluded with a Greek tragedy, Sophocles "Antigone." Miss Della Bryson, Hamlin, had a prominent part in this play, she was a palace guard, and in costume typical of that period appeared in each scene of the play.

"Antigone" is one of the more colorful of the tragic dramas of the early Greek literature, and with attractive costuming, good lighting effects, and excellent staging this was one of the best productions of the week. Those who participated in speech productions do it as an objective phase of their class work.

Citizens of Hamlin territory seldom have an opportunity to hear an unbiased scholarly man lecture on an important subject as that given at the Mission, Feb. 21, by Dr. Fred W. Ingvolstad on "Russia Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow." Dr. Ingvolstad lectures on Italy, Germany and many other subjects of interest. He lectures to various organizations, churches, medical associations, universities, colleges and so on, on any subject requested.

Fortunate indeed are those who hear him. It's an inspiration to us, not having a chance otherwise to learn of the wonderful things taking place in other parts of the world.

Dr. Ingvolstad expressed appreciation to Dr. McCrary for his hospitality. We hope to hear him lecture in Hamlin again. Dr. Ingvolstad is to lecture in Abilene, Saturday night, March 7th.

BE CAPTAINS OF THE ROAD

There is an unwritten law of the sea that is followed religiously—namely, the desire to save life. Why can't we have the same high purpose on land?

Such voluntary action is always based on necessity. Life-saving in automobile traffic is now as important as life-saving in sea traffic. Such rules as the following, adhered to with sincerity, would save life a hundred fold.

1. Before making a turn, get in traffic lane nearest desired position.

2. The rear vision mirror is for something beside looking for traffic cops—watch cars behind you.

3. Never take chances in passing and do not crowd right-of-way. Saving seconds is no excuse for causing one unnecessary risk of life.

4. Learn the feel of the car on the road, like the captain does his ship. Study the action of the car on the dry pavement, wet pavement, gravel road and icy road. Even the highest ability is not one hundred per cent perfect in driving.

5. Take driving seriously; you are probably no smarter than the last person whose neck was broken on a windshield. The smartest men (supposedly) meet with unfortunate disaster through gross carelessness.

Courtesy is not a sign of weakness; it is a sign of character and wisdom, and the ability to be fore-sighted and obliging.

The sea captain doesn't unnecessarily take chances when they can be avoided, but he willingly risks his life and his ship to prevent an accident or aid another vessel in distress. But automobile drivers willfully risk their own lives as well as the lives of others, for no good reason at all; it simply doesn't make sense.

If ordinary rules of common sense and courtesy were followed in driving (unwritten laws), accidents would be caused only by freak circumstances.

CARD OF THANKS

We are anxious to express our deepest appreciation and thanks to all who were so kind to administer to the wants of our dear companion, mother and sister, during the time she was ill and your sympathy at the hour of death will also be remembered by us.

DECISION AND COURAGE—The greater a man's ability to make wise decisions, the greater is his need of courage. Since invariably wise judgement is so rare, the man who has it is almost sure to find himself in disagreement with his associates or with the public. While it is foolish to court opposition, his ability to make sound decisions will avail him nothing unless he has also the courage to go contrary, if necessary, to the opinions of others.—Fred C. Kelly in the Rotarian Magazine.

Impressive victory in famous economy run officially confirms Pontiac's superior economy!

THE annual Yosemite Valley Economy Run is the year's big test of economy claims—and here is what it revealed: Under American Automobile Association supervision, the 1936 Pontiac traveled 352 miles at an average of 23.9 miles per gallon (no oil added), defeating all entrants in its class.

That settles the matter of Pontiac's thrift. Pound for pound, you can't do better. Buy a Pontiac to save. Buy it for dependability. Buy it for anything else you value most in a car. You won't be disappointed, for Pontiac asks no odds of any car at any price.

EAT WISELY

"Eat Wisely and Keep Well" was Miss Foulkner's, Jones Co. H. D. Agent, topic of discussion at the South Hamlin Home Demonstration Club meeting Feb. 12, at Mrs. Rosenbaums.

Rules for meal planning were given as follows:

1. Plan menus for a whole day, several days, rather than for each separate meal.
2. Select at least one regulation food, one building food and one fuel food for each meal.
3. Include foods which are laxative, such as bran, whole grain cereals, fruits and vegetables.
4. Tomatoes or citrus fruit should be served every day.
5. Use plenty of milk for drinking and cooking purposes.
6. Allow two or more vegetables besides potatoes every day. Serve fresh vegetables and salad plants frequently.
7. Picture meals as a whole and strive for both harmony and contrast in color, texture and flavor.

Lady Took Cardui When Weak, Nervous

"I can't say enough for Cardui if I talked all day," enthusiastically writes Mrs. L. H. Caldwell, of Statesville, N. C. "I have used Cardui at intervals for twenty-five years," she adds. "My trouble in the beginning was weakness and nervousness. I read of Cardui in a newspaper and decided right then to try it. It seemed before I had taken half a bottle of Cardui I was stronger and was soon up and around."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

TO DELINQUENT

CITY TAX PAYERS

MARCH 31st, 1936 IS DEADLINE FOR PAYING CITY TAXES WITHOUT PENALTY AND INTEREST.

We have been very lenient with delinquent tax payers in the enforcement of collections and the remission of penalty and interest, but we are now confronted with the necessity of raising more money in order to carry on the City Government.

We do not want to be unduly hard on any one but these delinquent taxes must be paid.

Arrange to pay your city taxes now and save the penalty and interest, also save the city the expense of employing a Tax Attorney.

Lets Talk about Clothes

The brushing rite, when properly performed, leaves the scalp slightly tingling with a faint glow of warmth to indicate that circulation has been effectively stimulated. Every strand of hair has been brushed clean and burnished to a glossy sheen. Brushing hair is rather like polishing silver, for it's astonishing how quickly you can see an actual difference in the appearance.

In the treatment of dry hair an excellent medium is made by combin- ing one ounce of castor oil and one ounce of alcohol. The purpose of the alcohol is to thin the oil and to create warmth in the scalp. Heat the mixture slightly, trickle it onto the scalp with a good rubbing. Let the tonic remain on over night. Next morning begin the shampoo with a rousing hot spray, using soap gener- ously. After the hair is dry rub a little brilliantine into the scalp.

PLANNING A GARDEN

Most of vegetables will grow in Fisher Co. if seasons are good and the soil prepared right. Of course, that means "If" you will plant them. The ideal way to prepare the soil is to spread barnyard manure and cotton burs from the gin on the garden spot and turn in the late fall. Then plant something that will grow all winter like oats, this to be turned under in January or February. Harrow the ground till soil is fine. The garden budget should contain a large variety of vegetables and several kinds never planted before. Variety is the "spice of life." Be sure to plant your Irish potatoes in February. The rows should be 3 feet apart except for tomatoes — they should be 4 feet. Plant early maturing plant at same end of garden so you can have a good space for planting a late variety when early ones are gone.

Buy a good brand of seed and plant enough seed to get a good stand. Study your catalogs for information on time to plant.

tern under it, have it going with a temperature around 95 degrees before the chicks arrive. If you get your chicks from your home hatchery man and they are 12 to 20 hours old leave them in the box. First put out your water container and chick starter, placed where all can eat and drink. Put the chicks out near their brooder. They will not eat any at this age but leave this before them. Watch the heat, water and feed. Do not let them run out of water and milk. Feed mash in feeders. Keep straw on the floor. Keep the premises sanitary. If you order your chicks from a breeder and your chicks are 48 to 60 hours old when they arrive, follow the same management except after they have eaten for 30 minutes, remove the feed from them 40 minutes, then put it before them and leave it. You may wonder why do this. Here's the reason: The chicks are hungry by this time. So we must give their digestive organs time to react.

We appreciate the space to give the many simple lessons that will help readers solve the problems of meeting this depression and defeating it. It can be done and is being done. Watch for another lesson on poultry management, sometime.

INTERESTING FEATURES

OF TEXAS CENTENNIAL

The Terecay pigeon, now almost extinct, will be displayed at the Texas Centennial Exposition opening in Dallas June 6. Ornithologists claim this red billed bird is one of the rarest in America. Flocks of thousands were common in the Southwest a hundred years ago.

Enough water to meet the daily needs of a city of 50,000 people will be piped into the Texas Centennial Exposition opening in Dallas June 6.

Visitors to the Texas Centennial Exposition opening in Dallas June 6 will be able to ride on reproductions of famous Mississippi steamboats which will be used on one of the lagoons.

The Negro race will be recognized at the Texas Centennial Exposition with $100,000 Hall of Negro Life and Culture in which will be portrayed the history and progress of the Negro in America. This is the first World's Fair to officially recognize and honor the Negroes of America.

Gun Girl

The gun which won Stamps, Texas Exposition Rangerette, holds, is from the collection of A. W. Discher, of Dallas. Eighteen notches on its stock attest to its efficiency in frontier Indian fighting. This, an 1827 Spencer Indian and Buffalo gun, and others from the Discher collection will be displayed during the Exposition which opens in Dallas June 6.

YOU CAN LESSEN THE SPREAD OF COMMUNICABLE DISEASE

AUSTIN, Texas—In speaking about epidemics, Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, stated that if doctors, nurses, householders and others would report the occurrence of any communicable disease immediately to the local health officer, that many epidemics could be prevented or greatly curtailed.

The control of preventable diseases depends upon the perfect reporting of all cases. It is necessary to secure information as to when and where cases occur before proper steps for the control of these cases can be taken. Every epidemic starts with one case and the doctors engaged in protecting the public health are interested in locating this first case to prevent its spread to others.

Some of the contagious diseases are quarantinable. This is not done

Thus wrote a "Prince of Eaters"—Brillat Savarin—more than a century ago. Even today it is still a great pity if ladies neglect to adorn their tables with this quick and easily made version of the delightful macaroon.

Coconut Macaroon Puffs

5 tablespoons granulated sugar; 5 tablespoons powdered sugar; 1 tablespoon flour; 2 egg whites; ¼ teaspoon vanilla; 1 cup shredded coconut.

Sift together sugars and flour. Beat egg whites until foamy throughout; then add sugar mixture, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition. Fold in vanilla and coconut. Drop from teaspoon on ungreased heavy paper. Bake in slow oven (325° F.) 20 to 25 minutes, or until delicately browned. Makes 18 puffs.

NOW the ladies are to have their own smoking-rooms on railroad trains. This attractive lounge, reserved exclusively for women, is an innovation in a light-weight, stainless steel chair car. The car, built for the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe

TONIGHT for supper, we will have a Sally Lunn tea cake. I'll serve it piping hot—split crosswise with a string in the old-time way; butter spread between the layers and oozing richly down the sides! No wonder there is a song about it. I heard it once in a Gilbert and Sullivan opera:

"Now for the rollicking bun
Now for the muffin and toast
And now for the gay Sally Lunn."

Quick Sally Lunn's

2 cups sifted cake flour; 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder; ¼ teaspoon salt; ¼ cup butter or other shortening; 4 table- spoons sugar; 1 egg, well beaten; 1 cup milk.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cream shortening, add sugar, and cream together thoroughly. Combine egg and milk. Add flour to creamed butter and sugar, alternately with milk mixture, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Bake in greased muffin pans in hot oven (425° F.) 25 minutes, or until done. Makes 12 medium muffins.

"Important, too, is a better co-ordination between local police authorities and citizens. Public support in full measure is needed, if the work of law enforcement officers is to be effective. The citizens in each community must understand the work and problems of the law enforcement officers, and they need to be kept informed of what these officers are doing."

"It is essential also that the public insist that the law enforcement agencies be staffed with the best possible personnel. Security of jobs is desirable, in order to maintain a maximum efficiency. Other factors making the more efficient personnel are adequate salaries, freedom from political interference, and high professional standard of training for all."

CO-OPERATION OF

CITIZENS ESSENTIAL

FOR CURBING CRIME

If we are to achieve progress in the national movement against crime, says Homer S. Cummings, Attorney General of the United States, in the Rotarian Magazine, the co-operation of the community is essential. Its role is quite as important, and its responsibility as great, as that of the Federal, State, or local governments in coping with the seriousness of this menace to society.

"Without the intelligent co-operation of all citizens, without community support and interest," he urges, "no people can achieve a control over crime. In the United States, crime control must necessarily depend as much on the county sheriff and the local law enforcement officers, as upon the Federal agents and the police forces of the cities. More vitally, it is to an enlightened public opinion to which we must look for the cure of the causes of crime as well as the cure of the crime itself."

"The roots of crime reach out into the community," Mr. Cummings continues, "whether it be city or hamlet in which the criminal first embarks on his career. It is here, therefore, that the initial opportunity lies for prevention. The betterment of schools, the elimination of slums, the improvement of working conditions and of homes—these and other social advances all help to re-

PRUNES Are PRIME

PRUNES are just dried plums? In the current vernacular—that's what you think! So did we until we went into prune ancestry. Any plum can't become a prune. Prune-plums are therefore usually called "fresh prunes."

Luther Burbank, in studying the hybridization of plums, spent ten years and thousands of dollars to produce the best plums for drying purposes—for prunes. For one thing a prune-plum must have the sort of skin which cracks in just the right way when it is immersed in the drying bath.

That Fresh Plum Taste

Canned prunes retain perfectly that fresh plum taste because they are quickly picked and quickly packed. Their rich syrup recommends them, and combined with the tender luscious fruit of the plum—they're something to eat!

It may seem beside the point to discuss ways of preparing them, because they are pretty hard to beat just as they are—for breakfast fruit, for luncheon dessert, or for dinner with roast meats. But if you like to do things with good ingredients—try this

Oregon Foam: Remove pits from one No. 2½ can of fresh prunes, press the prunes through a sieve and return to the juice. Heat to the boiling point and in it dissolve two tablespoons gelatin which has soaked five minutes in one-half cup of cold water. Add two tablespoons lemon juice and set away to cool and stiffen. When beginning to set, add two stiffly-beaten egg whites, and beat mixture until frothy with a Dover beater. Pour into wet molds and chill. Unmold and serve with cream or whipped cream. This serves eight persons.

Texas Exposition Gathers Speed In Exhibitors' Rush

Building Program Takes Form
As 5,000 Workmen Labor
24 Hours a Day

DALLAS, Texas.—Three shifts of workmen—close to 5,000 men working 24 hours a day—are rushing the Texas Centennial Exposition's buildings to final completion by the opening date, June 6.

The Exposition's own $15,000,000 construction program is well under way. The City of Dallas has broken ground on its $3,500,000 program, constituting seven permanent buildings which will form a vast civic cultural center when the Exposition is over. The State of Texas is racing work on the $1,200,000 Hall of State, one of the show pieces of the fair. The Federal Government has its two buildings—the Federal Building and the all of Negro Life and Culture—ready to leave the drafting room stage and become realities.

The Midway, probably the greatest in the United States has ever seen, is taking a tentative form as entertainment concessionaries fight for choice lots.

Not far from the industrial exhibits—where the latest exhibits of industry and science will be shown—the Exposition two Livestock Buildings are rising.

Here the greatest livestock show in the nation ever has been well under way.

The buildings alone will cost $400,000, complete with a veterinarians' hospital and every modern device for the care of livestock.

The value of the stock which will be exhibited here between June 6 and Nov. 29 cannot be estimated.

Paul M. Massmann, in charge of the Exposition's exhibit department, ready has laid before General Manager William A. Webb contracts for more than 80 per cent of the available Exposition display space.

Included among the exhibitors with whom negotiations have been completed are:

Advance Aluminum Casting Corp., Alfa Anso Corp., Aldridge Seed Farms, Inc., American Thread Co., American Telephone and Telegraph, All Brothers Co., Beech-Nut Packing Co., Book House for Children, Catholic Exhibit, Continental Oil Co., Dr. Pepper Co., Donna Lee Products, L. Baptists to Honor Houston March 1

DALLAS, Texas.—Baptists all over the United States will join in a religious celebration of the birthday of General Sam Houston, Sunday, March 1.

Houston's birthday falls on Texas Independence Day, March 2, but services will be held in all Baptist churches the preceding Sunday. In his letter to 2,000 Baptist congregations, Howard Williams, secretary of the Texas Baptist Convention, urges services in every community where there are two or more Baptist churches.

Special services will be held in First Baptist Church, Washington, D. C., which Houston attended when he was elected States senator, at Baylor University in Waco, Texas, whose founder, Dr. Rufus G. Burleson baptized General Houston and at Independence, Texas, where he joined the church. The Texas Centennial Exposition which is cooperating with the Texas Baptist Convention in plans for this religious observance will have a $50,000 Hall of Religion, a spacious and beautiful building for free exhibits by denominations. In the Baptist section of the structure special stress will be laid on Houston's services to his state and to the Republic of Texas which he was the first elected president.

First DuPont Exhibit

DALLAS, Texas.—For the first time in more than 100 years of existence, E. I. DuPont de Nemours & Co. will exhibit at a national exposition. Featuring the marvels of modern chemistry. The $100,000 display will be housed in the Hall of Varied Industries when the Exposition opens June 6.

Texas Invites Nation

DALLAS, Texas.—Half a million cards will go into the mail during the week beginning Jan. 12, addressed to out-of-staters by Dallas residents and inviting them here for Texas Centennial opening June 6.

$500,000 for Art

DALLAS, Texas.—Murals, friezes, reliefs, works of sculpture and other artistic touches costing more than half a million dollars are provided for in plans of the Texas Centennial Exposition.

Milestones of American Genius

"Grief," the famous Adams Memorial, in Rock Creek Cemetery, by St. Gaudens.

AUGUSTUS SAINT-GAUDENS

AMERICAN memorial art found its finest expression through Augustus Saint-Gaudens, the renowned sculptor, whose monuments to great Americans raised him to the pinnacle of artistic achievement. His noble tributes to many of our national heroes are to be met with in our larger cities and are familiar to millions.

Saint-Gaudens was born in Dublin, Ireland, on March 1, 1848, of an Irish mother and a French father. But America rightly claims him for her own, because he was brought here as an infant. In New York, where the family made its home, his father plied his trade as shoemaker, earning a modest living. The boy's talents showed themselves early, and at thirteen he was apprenticed to a cameo cutter. This trade supported him through arduous years as an art student, in the evening classes at Cooper Union.

By the time he was nineteen his skill as a sculptor was so marked that his parents, at great sacrifice, sent him to Paris for advanced study. A steamer passage was all they could afford. Later he went to Rome to study, and cameo cutting was his chief means of support there.

(Copyrighted by Memorial Extension Commission.)

His skill, however, was soon recognized, and commissions for important memorials began to come to him. Among the first was the order for a memorial to Admiral Farragut, which is now standing in New York and is considered among the city's foremost sculptural possessions. The fame of Saint-Gaudens spread quickly. Among the many works that came from his studios, his spirited equestrian statue of General Sherman, also in New York, is especially celebrated. His Shaw memorial in Boston and the beautiful statue of Lincoln in England are two more of the products of his gifted hands.

Perhaps the most admired of Saint-Gaudens' productions, however, is the figure of "Grief," the Adams Memorial, in Rock Creek Cemetery, Washington, D. C., a sketch of which is shown above. It is probably the most famous private memorial in America.

Saint-Gaudens spent the last twenty-five years of his life in Cornish, New Hampshire, where his studio attracted dozens of students. On the grounds of the beautiful estate stands "The Temple," wherein are sealed the ashes of Saint-Gaudens, who died on August 3, 1907.

TO TAKE MYSTERY OUT OF BANKING

By ROBERT V. FLEMING,

President American Bankers Association

The American Bankers Association has cooperated wherever it could properly do so in every measure for national recovery. It has offered constructive recommendations for such changes in banking laws as we recognized were necessary, and we now have a better law under which to operate. The Banking Act of 1935 affords us opportunities for broader service and, at the same time, retains the fundamentals which we believe are so vital to our national welfare and which have played a large part in bringing our country, in a comparatively short space of time, to the position of the greatest industrial nation on the earth.

R. V. FLEMING

The Public and Banking

It is necessary that the public have a thorough understanding of the functions of banks, what they can do and what they cannot do, for it must be recognized that to many people the business of banking is still somewhat of a mystery.

We should frankly explain these functions to the public, acquaint them with the laws under which we operate and emphasize the vital part which banks play in the economic life of the Nation. Therefore, in order that there may be the fullest cooperation and understanding between the banks and the people of the country, it will also be one of our objectives to take the mystery out of banking wherever it exists in the public mind.

Banking Conferences

A series of Regional Conferences on Banking Service will be held in strategic sections of the country, embracing all types of banking. The new banking laws and the regulations issued thereunder will be carefully analyzed so that our bankers will have a thorough understanding of the broadened services now made possible.

The question of public relations and how we can best serve the people of our communities will be another topic of discussion. Clinics or forums on specific questions of interest to bankers and the problems confronting them in their particular localities will also be included in these conferences.

PUBLIC ATTITUDE HELPS THE BANKS

Annual Bankers Convention Says People Have Had Confidence Restored—Recommend Changed Government Policy

The restoration of public confidence in banking has put it in the position where it can function fully and vigorously in playing its full economic part in the progress of recovery, said the American Bankers Association in its annual convention resolutions.

"The passage of a generally constructive banking law in the Banking Act of 1935 has stabilized the banking situation and enabled bankers to devote undivided attention to the normal administration of their institutions in promoting the business and public welfare of their communities," the resolutions said.

"We feel that it is a particularly important feature of this law that it aims to create through the revision of the Federal Reserve Board a Supreme Court of Finance which, with the non-political appointment of exceptionally competent men, should constitute one of the greatest forward steps in building a sound banking and credit system for this country."

The Government in Banking

Another resolution said: "We particularly emphasize the desirability of the retirement of government from those fields of extending credits of various types which can be adequately served by privately owned institutions. We recognize that the exigencies of the now passing depression made necessary a large participation by government for a time in the task of meeting the public's emergency financial needs.

"Those conditions have been largely remedied and the obligation now rests upon the banks and other financial agencies to demonstrate to the people of this country that they are fully able and willing to meet all demands upon them for sound credit cooperation. It is our duty as bankers to facilitate in every effective way the retirement of government agencies from credit activities by promoting public understanding of the proper function of privately owned banking."

ACCURATE RECORDS

The keeping of accurate records constitutes an essential part of any successful business management, whether manufacturing, merchandising or farming. It is quite generally conceded that any good business concern keeps adequate records, and this procedure is equally important in the business of farming, declares the Bulletin of the American Bankers Association Agricultural Commission.

PINEAPPLE JUICE

Keeps Pace with the Demand

THERE is an old saying that good things come in small packages, or something to that effect. If we were to let ourselves believe this, it would be depressing indeed. We would all have to go Pollyanna and keep reminding ourselves that there's an almost unlimited supply of the very best things—golden sunshine on a January morning, silver rain on a July afternoon, books, music, friends and food.

In Hawaii, where sunshine is dished out with so lavish a hand that people go out full of curiosity when it happens to rain, pineapples ripen on fields so vast that the supply appears unlimited, indeed. In spite of the fact that the demand for pineapples and for pineapple juice has increased steadily, since this food-for-kings became food-for-the-people, the supply goes right on increasing with the demand. Pineapple planters and pineapple canners evidently don't believe there can ever be too much of it.

To Your Health!

And where there's pineapple there's bound to be pineapple juice. So, it is in anything but "small packages" that this good drink comes to us. Use it, therefore, in abundance. The following are only a few of many ways that are daily being devised to enjoy this healthful, delicious juice in cans.

Holiday Fruit Creamade: Mash four bananas thoroughly, add one-half cup confectioner's sugar, one cup cream and the contents of two No. 2 cans of pineapple juice. Shake thoroughly with crushed ice in a cocktail shaker or glass jar. Unless a very large shaker is used, half the quantity should be shaken at a time. Serve immediately in tall glasses. This serves eight persons.

Marshmallow Fruit Loaf: Soften one tablespoon gelatin in one-fourth cup of canned pineapple juice, then dissolve in one cup more of canned pineapple juice which has been brought to boiling. Add one-third cup sugar and stir until dissolved. Cool, add the syrup from one cup of canned fruits for salad. When the mixture begins to stiffen, add one beaten egg white and one-half cup of cream which has been whipped. Add the fruits for salad which have been cut in suitable pieces, eight diced marshmallows and one sliced banana. Pour into a loaf pan which has been wet with cold water. Chill, turn out and slice. Garnish with whipped cream if desired. Serves eight persons.

DENTON, Feb. 10.—Women who seek beauty in little jars of expensive creams, precious perfumes, and lustrous eye shadows are sometimes likely to overlook the incomparable beauty of really fine hair.

Satin soft hair, whether it be straight as the sleek lock of an Indian princess or curly as that of Cinderella, probably does more to enhance the inherent loveliness of a face, young or old, than almost any other single feature. And there's no mystery about having beautiful lustrous hair.

Girls at Texas State College for Women (CIA) believe that women take their hair for granted, giving it only that kind of attention that has to do with arrangement. What they should do is to keep the growth healthy by frequent shampoos, nightly friction of the scalp and vigorous brushing to pluck out the dead shafts. The balanced diet is a help. Hair has to build cells and has to have nourishment from the blood streams.
